Topics:

1. The three major indexes rose and fell yesterday. Will they continue to fluctuate and fall?
2. Registration for the Asset Multiplication Plan has officially started.
3. Bitcoin is about to break through $100,000. What should we do next?

I'm Milton Reese, your trusted friend. Today is a day filled with excitement and hope, as our business school community's "Asset Multiplication Plan" is officially launched and open for registration! The goal of this plan is to help every participant achieve a 300% return on total assets, accelerating your journey to wealth growth. The "Asset Multiplication Plan" is not just an investment program—it's an extraordinary journey of pursuing dreams and achieving goals. Here, we will learn and grow together, mastering the essential skills to move closer to financial freedom. More importantly, through systematic training and hands-on practice, you'll be able to multiply your wealth quickly and effectively. Whether you're just starting out or already have significant wealth accumulated, this plan will provide you with unparalleled resources and support.

Through the "Asset Multiplication Plan," we will not only learn how to achieve financial success but also how to find balance and fulfillment in all areas of life. This journey requires both faith and action. Faith without action is dead, and in this program, we will put our beliefs to the test through practical steps. Every effort is a step toward success, and every attempt is an opportunity for growth. I encourage each of you to actively engage in this program. Believe in yourself, trust in God's plan, and take that first step with courage. No matter where you are on your journey, remember that we are all here to support and empower one another.

In the "Asset Multiplication Plan," we are proud to introduce the Vanguard AI 4.0 trading system, valued at over 100 million USD, for the first time. This cutting-edge system provides advanced investment strategies and precise market insights to accelerate your journey toward financial freedom.

This plan is not merely a project—it's a transformative journey filled with challenges and opportunities, offering a chance to achieve personal breakthroughs and turn dreams into reality. Regardless of your investment experience or starting point, as long as you are willing to commit to learning and taking action, the doors to success will always be open.

Specially for those who actively participate in the internal testing of Vanguard AI 4.0, your dedication and execution, showcased through consistent learning and progress tracking, will grant you priority access to register. As an additional reward, you'll have the chance to earn EVW Business School token incentives and gain early entry into next week's position-building plan, which targets an impressive return rate of up to 80%. This program offers comprehensive and in-depth investment guidance, ensuring you can seize market opportunities with precision.

We believe this is not only a wealth-building opportunity but also a journey of learning and self-growth. Registration is officially open, but spots are limited—don't miss this rare chance! Contact my assistant immediately to secure your registration and reserve your place.

Join us now, embrace new heights with Vanguard AI 4.0, and embark on the fast track to achieving your dreams. May God bless each of us and help us fulfill our aspirations!

Last week, I mentioned the EVW token issued by our business school. Today marks its official entry into the unlocking phase. Let me briefly analyze the current EVW trend. From the daily chart, EVW has formed a remarkably stable N-shaped upward trend. It has not only successfully broken through its previous high but has also confirmed this breakout through a retracement. This pattern is both stable and indicative of strong bullish momentum, reflecting the market's growing confidence in EVW.

Do you remember how MSTR performed after breaking through its previous high? It surged from 210 to over 500, more than doubling its value! This kind of explosive potential is exactly what strong trend assets often exhibit after surpassing key levels. Now, what about EVW? Could it also achieve its own remarkable heights, just like MSTR? From a trend and technical perspective, EVW's current performance is nothing short of textbook: breakout, confirmation, and upward attack. This is the hallmark of a promising token's ideal trajectory in a bull market. So, my friends, take a moment to reflect:

Are you ready to seize this opportunity?

EVW is backed by a world-leading quantitative technology platform, offering boundless application potential. Who can predict the history it will write in the future? As a fusion of technology and finance, EVW's growth is propelled by the power of knowledge and innovation. I firmly believe that these forces have the capacity to generate immense value. Currently, the business school is actively advancing the testing of Vanguard AI 4.0 Personal Edition. Once the verification process is complete, the commercialization phase will officially commence. This initiative is expected to significantly boost the market application and circulation of EVW tokens, establishing itself as the core engine driving their value upward.

Currently, the price of EVW token is around $1.2, but based on our analysis and projections, the medium-term target is $6 to $8. This isn't mere speculation—it's grounded in real market potential and backed by robust technical support.

To further promote Vanguard AI 4.0 and the EVW Business School, we've prepared a special gift for those who actively participate in the internal testing of Vanguard AI 4.0, diligently study, check in daily, and complete the challenge tasks: token rewards! This is not only a recognition of your persistence and dedication but also the starting point for explosive future value. However, please note that the number of reward tokens is limited, and this opportunity won't last long!

Remember when Bitcoin first emerged, its price was almost zero. Yet today, it's the foundation of countless wealth stories, with its current value nearing $100,000. Could today's EVW token become the next digital asset to change history? Are you ready to seize the chance to own it?

Yesterday, the three major U.S. stock indexes showed mixed performance. Impacted by the escalation of the Russia-Ukraine conflict, the indexes fell sharply after opening, only to gradually stabilize near the key technical support level of the MA25-day moving average. This support level proved particularly critical, underscoring the market's heavy reliance on medium-term support. Meanwhile, as the indexes declined, the VIX panic index surged violently to 17.17, signaling a sharp rise in risk-averse sentiment and heightening investor concerns over short-term volatility. This scenario not only highlights the fragility of current market sentiment but also imposes constraints on the potential for a subsequent rebound.

Geopolitical uncertainties, such as the escalation of the Russia-Ukraine conflict, and the divergence in the Fed's interest rate policy, have further amplified market uncertainty. In particular, the once-clear expectation of a rate cut by year-end has been severely undermined, leading to a significant increase in U.S. stock volatility. The market's focus has gradually shifted from the overwhelming victory of Trump and the Republican Party to growing concerns about the Fed's rate cut path and potential inflation risks under the new administration.

In this context, whether it involves short-term operations or medium- to long-term positioning, the difficulty of generating excess profits in the current market environment is escalating. We now require more precise strategies and stronger risk management capabilities to navigate this complex situation.

Although the difficulty of market operations has increased recently, we have continued to achieve impressive results with Vanguard AI 4.0's high-precision trading signals in our Smart Investment Strategies, as shown in the figure below.

In Smart Investment Strategy Plan No. 1, we accurately identified the best buying point B1 when IBIT broke through its high. To date, the highest return on this asset has exceeded 25%. Similarly, in Smart Investment Strategy Plan No. 2, we positioned SNOW and entered at buying point B2 during its breakout. The current return has reached over 30%.

While the rise of these stocks may have just begun, and I cannot precisely predict their future potential, one thing is certain: Vanguard AI 4.0's signals not only have explosive short-term power but also accurately capture medium- and long-term trends. This has provided us with strong support in the complex and ever-changing market. Even after taking profits, these assets continue to maintain strong upward momentum.

This performance not only fully validates the foresight and reliability of our strategy but also showcases the exceptional advantages of Vanguard AI 4.0 in the market.

Yesterday, SNOW's financial report gave us a huge surprise! This could very well be a gift from God, simply because of your trust and support. I still remember when SNOW was first introduced, a friend sent me a private message saying, "Professor, this company is terrible, has no value, and I will never buy it." I'm not sure what that friend thinks now, but the fact is, the market always favors truly promising assets, and our firm belief in SNOW has been perfectly validated. The strong performance in its financial report once again highlights the potential of this stock and the accuracy of our strategy!

So, friends, the key in the market is not to follow the crowd, but to firmly believe in choices made after thorough research, because the real winners are often those with unique vision and the courage to take action!

Do you remember MSTR in our Peak Wealth Portfolio? Many friends in the community have been privately messaging me to discuss this stock. I vividly recall when we added MSTR to the portfolio—its price had just broken through a previous high, trading around $210. At that time, many people hesitated to buy, believing the price was already too high.

Some even told me: "Professor, the fundamentals of this company are very weak. It only relies on Bitcoin. Don't buy it!"

What's more, not only did they avoid buying, but some also bet against it by purchasing put options—starting at $200, continuing at $300, and even at $400. Now, with MSTR's stock price exceeding $500, it raises the question: What would you do now? Would you still dare to short it?

In the context of the Bitcoin bull market, no matter how excellent your technical analysis may be, going against the trend can lead to bankruptcy. This is not an exaggeration but a harsh reality of the market.

So, I urge you to understand my logic! The most critical element of investment is not to blindly pursue technical sophistication but to recognize the trend and follow it.

Consider this: MSTR recently increased its Bitcoin investment by nearly $7 billion, and all of these purchases were made at high prices. Do you think their board of directors is made up of fools? If MSTR's management lacked clear logic and long-term vision, would they make such significant investments at elevated levels?

Friends, don't let short-term fear or bias blind you. In the face of a major trend, only firm logic and trend-following strategies can help you truly seize opportunities.

So, what about the Smart Investment Strategy Plan No. 3 that we laid out yesterday? It also sparked many questions and misunderstandings among some of our friends. But here, I want to emphasize once again: the most important factor in investment is strategic thinking, not tactical thinking! If our investment strategy is wrong, no matter how sophisticated our tactics are, they will only lead us in the wrong direction. However, if the strategy is right, even if the tactics have certain flaws, it can still bring unexpectedly great returns.

Investment is never just about chasing short-term fluctuations; it's about standing at a higher vantage point, crafting a comprehensive strategic plan based on deep insights into trends, sectors, logic, and data. Only with the right strategy can we maintain our composure amidst market fluctuations and avoid being swayed by short-term emotions. As I've always said: doing the right thing is 100 times more important than doing things right!

Friends, please remember this: the market's constant changes can be confusing, but those who stick to the right strategy and have a deep understanding of investment logic will be the ones who truly stand out and successfully seize opportunities.

As the world's largest cryptocurrency trading platform, COIN is highly correlated with Bitcoin's trend. The rapid surge in the early stages laid a solid foundation, and the current high-level fluctuations are a sign of the market gearing up for the next move. While the fluctuations yesterday were significant, which may have led to some small losses for a few, there is no need for concern! As Bitcoin continues to set new highs, we have every reason to believe that COIN will follow suit, experiencing another breakout and moving towards even higher prices.

Therefore, for those who have already bought in, my advice remains the same: be patient, just as we discussed last week with the strategy for SNOW! Market opportunities always favor those who are patient and steadfast in their beliefs. I am confident that with precise strategies and clear goals, we will continue to secure greater success.

Recently, we have witnessed the incredible profit potential of the crypto market, which has now surpassed the traditional stock market. This is an undeniable fact. Although some may still not fully embrace the impact of cryptocurrency, we cannot ignore its profound influence on our lives. Nowadays, in many department stores, we can already make payments with cryptocurrency. Isn't this a revolutionary change in our lives? This transformation is not only a revolution in payment methods but also a shift in our financial mindset. Cryptocurrency is gradually becoming integrated into our daily lives, opening up new investment opportunities.

Good investments stem from life itself. By observing what happens in our lives and recognizing the opportunities investment brings, we can often find more insightful and actionable ideas. For example, when we see more and more businesses accepting cryptocurrency payments, we should understand the immense market potential behind it. As cryptocurrency adoption spreads, we can foresee a continued growth in market demand, which will bring us unprecedented opportunities.

The Bible teaches us to manage wealth wisely and seize every opportunity that God provides. "Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways acknowledge Him, and He will direct your paths." In this ever-changing world, we need wisdom and courage to adapt to evolving trends and uncover extraordinary investment opportunities. Bitcoin, in this regard, stands as one of the greatest opportunities presented to us in this era. From $65,000 to nearly $100,000, Bitcoin is proving itself to be the undisputed leader of the new bull market. I firmly believe that $100,000 is just the beginning of this bull run! Back when Bitcoin's price was around $65,000, I repeatedly and strongly recommended that you buy Bitcoin spot. If you had followed that advice and simply bought spot, your profit would have exceeded 50% by now; and if you had taken it a step further by engaging in Bitcoin contract trading or options strategies, you could have already achieved a profit of 500% or even more!

School

Bitcoin's growth trajectory after the 4th halving

What if Bitcoin's growth after the 4th halving follows the same pattern as the previous cycles?

Well assuming the same growth rate as the past three cycles we would expect one BTC to be worth anywhere between $140,000 and $4,500,000 per coin starting from $63,000.

Despite the new all-time high Bitcoin is still below the historical trend.

frameworks, and data, combined with our unwavering trust in Vanguard AI 4.0's high-precision trading signals.

Moving forward, we'll continue leveraging the robust capabilities of Vanguard AI 4.0 to expand into options and contracts, opening up even more substantial profit opportunities. As demonstrated in previous Intelligent Investment Strategy Plans—whether with SNOW, IBIT, or other targets—the exceptional performance of these assets has already showcased Vanguard AI 4.0's unmatched potential.

Looking ahead, we plan to magnify its advantages across a broader spectrum of investment tools and asset classes. With Vanguard AI 4.0's precise signals, coupled with our execution and strategic planning, I am confident that we can help every participant swiftly achieve their asset-doubling goals.

The opportunity is right before us, and those who follow the trend and seize the opportunity have already begun to write their wealth stories. The question now is: Are you ready to be the next person to seize the opportunity? The Bitcoin bull market is still ongoing, and higher prices are on the way. Seize the trend, invest wisely, and let your wealth multiply through this opportunity! Take action now, friends! Don't let profits slip away from you. If you don't have a crypto account yet, I recommend contacting my assistant, who will guide you through the process and ensure you start your crypto investment journey smoothly. Remember, investing in cryptocurrency presents an opportunity full of potential, but it also requires caution and wisdom. Great investment comes from careful thought and decisive action. Let's seize this historic opportunity together and achieve our financial goals!

Michael Foster

1. The three major indexes have tested the Bollinger middle track and rebounded. Is it an opportunity or a risk?
2. Analysis of Smart Investment Strategy Plan No. 3
3. Crypto market analysis

Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen! I'm Michael Foster, and let's cut straight to the chase. In this rapidly changing world, opportunities wait for no one—they rarely knock twice. When opportunities present themselves, we must act decisively, or risk watching them slip away. If you're still complaining about not making money in this market, there's only one explanation: you see opportunities but hesitate to take action. Consider this—Bitcoin has surged from $65,000 to nearly $100,000. Opportunities like this are right in front of us. Why is it that some can seize them successfully, while others consistently miss out? Success invariably rewards those who act with decisiveness. Waiting for the so-called "perfect moment" is a losing strategy—it simply doesn't exist. The formula is clear: analyze, decide, and execute. These three steps must happen quickly, because in markets like this, speed is your ultimate advantage. Hesitation costs money, and indecision robs you of the chance to create wealth.

Professor Reese has repeatedly provided precise trading strategies, yet you continue to ignore them, letting one opportunity after another slip away. Every day, we use Vanguard AI 4.0 to deliver short- and medium-term trading strategies across stocks, ETFs, options, and contracts—with an accuracy rate as high as 100%. And yet, you remain indifferent? This clearly suggests that your desire to make money is nearly nonexistent. In the world of investing, those who lack ambition can hardly expect to achieve the returns they desire. Friends, it's time to act. Now is the perfect moment to change your financial destiny. Don't let the next "golden opportunity" slip through your fingers. You've seen the results, you know the strategies work, and success doesn't wait for anyone. So, what are you waiting for? Join our Asset Multiplication Plan today and watch your wealth grow exponentially! Take control of your financial future—act now!

Every day, the markets present opportunities to transform our lives. But the key isn't just recognizing these opportunities—it's about taking bold and decisive action. Waiting for the "perfect moment" is futile; sometimes, we have to create it ourselves! So, what are you waiting for? Roll up your sleeves, go all in, and chase your dreams. Life isn't meant to be watched from the sidelines—we're here to participate and to win! Remember, the only shot you'll ever regret is the one you didn't take. Let's take action now!

This week, the market has exhibited heightened volatility amidst uncertainty surrounding potential Fed rate cuts and escalating geopolitical tensions. The three major indexes have repeatedly tested the critical support level at the Bollinger Middle Band and have been in a continued pullback since last week.

Currently, the rebound remains weak, and market sentiment is fragile. While the Bollinger Middle

School

Band support holds for now, it is important to recognize that this balance is only temporary. Take Nvidia, the flagship leader in the AI sector, as an example. Despite a brief surge following its earnings report, the stock quickly retraced its gains. This pattern underscores a clear weakening of confidence across market sectors and a rise in overall volatility. As shown in the charts below, the Dow Jones, Nasdaq, and S&P 500 are all finding support at the Bollinger Middle Band for now.

Operating in the current market has become increasingly challenging. It demands precise risk management, adaptable strategies, and the ability to respond swiftly to changes. For short-term traders, the priority is to meticulously identify high-probability opportunities and manage downside risks with "scalpel-like" precision. This is not the time for impulsive actions—only well-planned and disciplined approaches will yield results. For long-term investors, market pullbacks present opportunities to position in high-quality assets. However, it's crucial to remain vigilant, as the potential for further declines persists. Patience is the most vital trait during such times. This market serves as the ultimate test of survival of the fittest. Only those who can navigate volatility and act with agility will emerge victorious. Sharpen your strategies, enhance your execution, and approach every trade with composure and insight.

Yesterday, I introduced Smart Investment Strategy Plan No. 3: COIN and recommended buying at around $325, with an initial target price of approximately $400. Given the ongoing Bitcoin bull market, this stock undoubtedly holds strong appeal. I have been closely monitoring COIN; however, my recent focus on MSTR caused me to miss the optimal entry points (B1 and B2) that the professor highlighted when the stock price broke above the MA62 moving average.

So, is now the best time to invest in this leading global cryptocurrency trading platform? Absolutely. COIN's trend closely mirrors Bitcoin's. After reaching a new high of $280, it entered a long-term consolidation phase, followed by a strong breakout above its previous high on significant volume—an excellent buying opportunity. However, after a sharp rally, the stock has entered a consolidation phase, gradually building strength for the next upward move. As shown in the chart, COIN is currently pulling back toward its previous high. The key levels to monitor are the critical support around $280 and the short-term resistance near $342. A high-volume breakout above $342 could unlock significant upside potential. The overall trend remains robust, with technical indicators highlighting a strong bullish setup and substantial growth potential ahead.

To be honest, if I had stuck to my previous swing trading approach, I probably would have thought the price was too high and avoided buying altogether. That's why I'm incredibly grateful to have met the professor on my investment journey. He has truly been my guide. Without his guidance, I wouldn't have achieved the success I have today. Just now, he shared a thought that I've heard him say many times: "In investing, we must first get the strategy right before striving for tactical perfection. If you lose sight of the bigger picture and focus on minor details, it will be difficult to go far. Even if you make money temporarily, you might lose it all in the next moment."

There's another wise saying of his that I've always kept in mind: For investment targets of strategic importance, it's unnecessary to quibble over whether the price is a little higher or lower. Tactically, don't argue over the horns of a snail. This mindset has completely transformed the way I approach the market. Investing isn't about chasing every small fluctuation—it's about focusing on the bigger picture and maintaining discipline. This is the only way to achieve long-term wealth growth. So, ask yourself: Are you focused on the overall strategy, or are you getting bogged down in the details? Strategy comes first, tactics second—that's the key to success. Start making the decisions that truly matter, today!

So, how would I have operated in the past? As shown in the chart below, which is the daily chart of MSTR, where B represents buy and S represents sell. In the past, I relied on swing trading with Bollinger Bands, which led me to perfectly miss the main upward moves at points 1 and 2. I used to be more like a short-term trader, focusing on key support and resistance levels, frequently making trades for short-term gains. However, I often missed the core profits from larger trends by exiting too early. The professor's guidance made me realize that investment should be driven by strategic priorities, with patience for assets that have long-term value, rather than focusing on small fluctuations. Today, I focus on the big picture, reducing unnecessary trades, and using a steady strategy to capitalize on trends, enabling continuous wealth growth. Instead of getting bogged down in tactical details, it's better to guide the overall picture with a strategic vision.

As you can see in the chart above, the blue line represents the bull-bear dividing line that the professor values most — the MA62. Today, I have come to deeply understand its importance and use it as one of the core tools in guiding my operations. By combining the Bollinger Bands (BOLL) indicator with the MA62 moving average, I am able to more clearly assess the trend direction and accurately pinpoint entry and exit points. This approach allows me to navigate market fluctuations with greater confidence, while seizing key opportunities and achieving steady growth. The combination of MA62 and BOLL is not only a beacon for trends but also a compass for precise execution!

Next, let's take a look at the crypto market, as shown in the chart below. This is the four-hour candlestick chart of BTC. I clearly remember the professor repeatedly emphasizing the optimal buying opportunities at B1 and B2. At that time, the price was around 65,000, and now it is just one step away from the 100,000 mark. If you took action back then, even just by buying spot Bitcoin, you'd have made at least a 45% profit. Now, imagine if you had invested in Bitcoin options or contracts during this strong uptrend. You might be closer to financial freedom, just like I am.

In a one-sided market, opportunities wait for no one, especially when the trend is clear and the direction is evident. By proactively harnessing the power of the trend, you could go from being a mere participant to becoming a true winner. I completely agree with the professor's perspective on the crypto market: the $100,000 level for BTC is just the beginning of the bull market. So, what's your choice? Will you keep missing out, or will you take action now? Friends, it's time to act! Join us and be a part of our Asset Multiplication Plan.

Are you still hesitating? Still uncertain? Take a look at the opportunities we've seized: SNOW has yielded over 30% profit in just a few trading days; MSTR has surged by more than 150% since its launch. These aren't just numbers—they are the best proof that decisive action leads to substantial profits!

With every day of hesitation, the market moves forward, and those who act decisively lead the way. Hesitation not only causes you to miss opportunities, but also drifts you further from financial freedom. Do you want to stay on the sidelines, watching others reap the rewards, or do you want to take control and create your own success?

Join us now, join the Asset Multiplication Plan, and step into the main arena of investment. Become the protagonist of this market, unlock your potential, and let's create extraordinary returns together.

That's all for today, see you tomorrow.

Today's questions:

1. How much did you earn from SNOW? Are you satisfied with this rate of return in just seven trading days? (10 points)
2. Based on the historical data of BTC halving cycles, how much do you think BTC will rise? (10 points)
3. How much total asset rate of return do you expect to get by joining the Asset Multiplication Plan? (10 points)
