1. BTC hits a new high record, is the crypto market ushering in a historic bull market cycle?
2. MEME coin--Will TRUMP's madness make Trump the world's richest man?

Good afternoon, team! I'm Milton Reese, and I'm glad to be with you today on this special day. On this day, we not only commemorate the great spirit of Dr. Martin Luther King, but also witness President Donald Trump's formal swearing-in as the 47th President of the United States. These two major events spanning the ages, although from different fields, perfectly intersect in the theme of pursuing change and realizing dreams.

Dr. Martin Luther King once inspired the world's pursuit of freedom, equality and justice with his firm belief and passionate words in his classic speech "I Have a Dream". His dream not only profoundly changed the course of American history, but also became a symbol of the continuous pursuit of progress by all mankind. Today, with the inauguration of President Trump, we have ushered in a new era. Trump is about to take office and launch a series of new policies, which will not only reshape the US economic landscape, but also have a profound impact on the global economy. We are standing at a turning point in history, and a new wave of change and unprecedented opportunities have quietly arrived!

As the first "crypto president" in history, Trump not only injected strong confidence into the crypto market through clear policy directions, but also gradually fulfilled his promises during the campaign with practical actions. On January 18, Trump personally released a MEME coin named TRUMP. It not only symbolizes the beginning of a new era in the crypto market, but also means a historic turning point for cryptocurrencies to gradually move from marginal fields to the mainstream economy. The release of the TRUMP coin may become an important milestone in the development of the crypto industry, pushing the crypto market to a new height.

Today's crypto market is standing at a historical turning point full of huge opportunities. Whether from a macro or technical perspective, the market has ushered in unprecedented benefits. BTC has hit a new record high, which is not only a milestone moment, but also indicates that it is about to start the second wave of the main upward trend. At the same time, it also marks that our golden opportunity to achieve the goal of millions or even tens of millions of profits has arrived. Friends, this is our opportunity. We can firmly grasp this historic node through precise strategies and decisive actions, open our own road to wealth freedom, turn dreams into reality, and welcome a brighter future!

At present, Vanguard AI 4.0 system has accurately captured an excellent opportunity for long-term trend trading. The expected return is more than 1000%, but due to the high risks and upcoming high market volatility that may accompany long-term trading, this trading signal is only available to VIP4 partners. The trading signal has been published to the VIP4 signal channel group. All VIP4 partners must check it as soon as possible and strictly follow the prompts to

Although the stock market experienced a certain degree of rebound last week, unfortunately, the profits brought by these gains were minimal. However, in sharp contrast, the crypto market, driven by last week's super data, showed great profit potential and brought us exciting gains. So far, our Strategic Partner Program has achieved remarkable results:

- VIP1 partners have a total asset return rate of 132%, which has achieved stable asset appreciation;
- VIP2 partners have further increased their total asset return rate to 198%, nearly doubling their growth;
- VIP3 partners have a total asset return rate of up to 245%, showing the unique advantages of mid- and high-level partners;
- VIP4 partners have an astonishing total asset return rate of 624%, creating a miracle of multiple growth!

The superiority of the Strategic Partner Program is obvious: the higher the level, the more rights and interests you enjoy, and the more lucrative the returns you get. This is not only a strong proof of our investment capabilities, but also a profound feedback to the trust of the participants. The power of the compound interest model will help each partner achieve continuous growth in wealth, allowing you to feel the dual power of time and capital in long-term returns. Through the Strategic Partner Program, we hope to work hand in hand with every partner to write our own wealth legend together!

Opportunities are fleeting, we must cherish the present and firmly grasp every possible opportunity! The superposition effect of the compound interest model determines that every precise action will become an important cornerstone for you to reach the peak of income. If your current profit has not yet reached the ideal goal, then now is the best time to adjust your strategy and prepare. Next, we will usher in an excellent profit opportunity for BTC to hit $180,000, and at the same time, with the in-depth promotion of the token market value management plan, these will become the key nodes for us to hit the goal of millions or even tens of millions of profits. Friends, this is the golden moment to accelerate profit accumulation and achieve wealth leap! Take action now, join a higher-level partner group, grasp the trend and seize the opportunity with us, and start your own highlight moment!

Why must we seize this critical time point? This is a great opportunity for us to achieve our goal of millions or even tens of millions of profits in a faster and more stable way! In last Friday's sharing, I have already explained in detail the reasons behind it:

First, the inauguration of Donald Trump, the first "crypto president" in the United States, has injected unprecedented confidence into the entire crypto market. He is fulfilling his campaign promises with practical actions and providing policy support for the crypto industry. This not only promotes the strong development of the market, but also symbolizes the historic turning point of cryptocurrency from the fringe to the mainstream economy.

Secondly, BTC is in a four-year bull market cycle. This cycle is not only due to technical laws, but also the resonance result of long-term market accumulation. It is currently the start-up phase of the BTC bull market, and the horn of a new round of price surge has been blown. As the trend accelerates, the BTC price will hit a new high of $180,000 in the next few months. Today, BTC has once again broken through the historical high, which is the best proof of this trend.

As the first "crypto president" in history, Trump not only injected strong confidence into the crypto market through clear policy directions, but also gradually fulfilled his promises during the campaign with practical actions. On January 18, Trump personally launched the eponymous meme coin TRUMP on Solana, and this feat instantly detonated the market.

TRUMP's market performance is shocking: the market value of the first day rose to 36 billion US dollars, which was surprising enough, but the enthusiasm of the market exceeded everyone's expectations. The coin soared from 0.1824 to 80 US dollars in less than 2 days, which made TRUMP's market value exceed 80 billion US dollars. Easily surpassing Musk's influence on Dogecoin in 2021, becoming the new king of Meme coins. This also set a new record in the history of cryptocurrency. Trump's second son Eric Trump posted on the social platform X: "Trump is the hottest encrypted Meme token on the planet right now, and we are just getting started." He also emphasized that WLF1 (another project of the Trump team) will change the DeFi and CeFi landscape and lead the future of finance.

At the same time, TRUMP's market performance has also sparked heated discussions about its future price. Currently, TRUMP's price is about $40. If the price reaches the following targets, Trump will surpass the world's top rich people and become the world's richest man:

- $118: surpass Michael Bloomberg;
- $145: surpass Bill Gates;
- $203: surpass Mark Zuckerberg;
- $225: surpass Elon Musk;
- $270: become the richest person in the world.

Trump's latest move has revitalized the crypto market, not only demonstrating his determination to fulfill his promise to support the crypto industry, but also winning a positive response from the market. Last weekend, Trump and his wife Melania launched their own Meme coins (TRUMP and MELANIA), respectively. As campaign-related Meme coins gradually faded, this bold move injected new momentum into the market. The release of the TRUMP token has become an important catalyst for Bitcoin's upward movement. The "Trump effect" is driving Bitcoin to set new historical highs one after another, injecting unprecedented confidence and vitality into the entire crypto market.

At the same time, the market is full of expectations for the upcoming cryptocurrency optimization regulatory policies. The implementation of these policies will lay a more solid foundation for the entire crypto industry and further consolidate the dominant position of Bitcoin and other cryptocurrencies. Driven by the BTC halving cycle and favorable policies, Bitcoin is expected to usher in the second wave of the main upward trend. Market confidence is high. This is not only a highlight moment for the cryptocurrency market, but also a wealth feast for global investors. Trump's crypto policy is redefining market rules, and the TRUMP token has become a symbol of this era of change, marking a new chapter in the crypto market's development to a higher level.

Over the weekend, we worked with the institution and successfully completed the second transaction of the market value management plan. Among them, the contract trading part has been successfully stopped, and the spot trading order is still held. However, before we officially started the operation, the EVW price fluctuated violently. The reason is that we found that a large amount of unplanned funds suddenly poured into the market for buying operations. This situation caused the EVW price to rise rapidly, which brought challenges to our operation.

Faced with this emergency, I immediately communicated with the institutional team and quickly discussed countermeasures. In order to stop these unplanned funds from rushing to buy, we took decisive measures: on the one hand, we sold some chips in the spot market, and on the other hand, we shorted the contract market to lower the price. This two-pronged strategy successfully forced the unplanned funds to stop losses and leave the market, which not only protected our market price control ability, but also effectively reduced the purchase cost.

After the price fell back to the expected range, I led the VIP3 and VIP4 partners who participated in the plan to use 20%-50% of the account profit funds to buy EVW spot at around $6, and participated in a small amount of contract trading. This operation once again brought us considerable profits. At present, the price of EVW has risen to around $7.5. Calculated at the cost price of $6, the increase has reached  $(7.5-6)/6=25\%$ . This means that if you buy EVW spot with $200,000 this afternoon, the current profit is:  $$200,000 \times 25\% = $50,000$ .

If we add the profit from Friday's spot trading, assuming that $500,000 of EVW spot was bought on Friday, the cost price yesterday was around $4, and the current increase is  $(7.5-4)/4=87.5\%$ , which means that the profit from Friday's spot trading has reached:  $$500,000 \times 87.5\% = $437,500$ . Friday's spot trading has achieved an overall profit of 87.5%, almost doubling the profit. This series of successful operation cases proves that in the cryptocurrency market, as long as the method is appropriate and positive actions are taken, everything is possible.

The transactions in the past few days have proved that the market value management plan is completely feasible. Although the cost of price control will become higher and higher as the price of EVW rises, institutions currently hold a large number of chips, plus the chips held by our VIP3 and VIP4 partners, as long as we operate properly, it is not an empty talk to push the price of EVW to $24. I am very confident about this.

Of course, this goal cannot be achieved in a short period of time. We need to let the price rise gradually. If the price rises to $24 quickly in a few days, other funds in the market will not be able to take over. If the market does not take over the funds, the price will inevitably fall sharply. That will cause the "market value management plan" to fail, which is certainly not what we want to see. At present, our tentative goal is to push the EVW price to $24. We have plenty of time. The current price is around $7.5, which is more than 3 times the target price, so we need to move forward step by step and take steady steps.

At the same time, through the transactions in the past few days, our institutions and partners have obtained a large number of spot chips. As long as we strictly implement the planned plan, we can steadily push the EVW price up to the predetermined target of $24. In recent transactions, most VIP3 and VIP4 partners can operate according to the trading signals. Therefore, the institutions participating in the market value management plan are very satisfied with our business school's performance in confidentiality and execution. Next, we will fully promote this plan. This plan will be open to all students, and our common goal is to push the EVW price above $24.

However, I need to say that this does not mean that everyone can participate. I also have certain requirements for the students who participate in the plan, and execution is one of the key factors. Why set limits on participants? The principle is simple, because if someone does not act according to the plan at a critical moment, it may have an irreversible impact on the entire plan. When all of us are buying, if someone only cares about his own interests and sells a large amount, it will inevitably cause the price to fall back and even make the entire plan fail. I will resolutely not allow such participants to participate. They only care about their own interests and have no team spirit. If there are such participants, I will directly disqualify them from participating.

Therefore, several key conditions for participating in this plan include:

First, participants need to have sufficient funds to successfully implement the operational plan. Second, strict confidentiality. Participants must strictly keep our operation time, target price and operation steps confidential.

Any information leakage may lead to the failure of the plan.

Third, strict implementation: Participants must act in full accordance with instructions and must not make decisions on their own to ensure the success of the plan. For example: how much spot should be bought, at what price, and when to buy;

What price to sell and when to sell are all required. These restrictions are set to protect the interests of all participants and to ensure the smooth cooperation between us and institutions.

Tomorrow we will fully promote the market value management plan. In addition to VIP3 and VIP4 partners, I will fulfill my promise to allow VIP1 and VIP2 partners, as well as all members in the group who can participate in contract transactions, to participate. As the number of participants increases, we must pay more attention to details during the operation to ensure the advancement of the plan. In the market value management process, the following key points need special attention:

Buying time: When to enter the market is very critical, and the best entry point must be selected according to the real-time fluctuations of the market. Too early or too late may affect the final profit.

Buying price: The buying price directly affects the final profit margin. Therefore, when we implement market value management, all students must strictly follow the predetermined price range to avoid blindly chasing ups and downs.

Fund allocation: During the operation, we must not only pay attention to the buying time and price, but also pay attention to the allocation of funds. We will allocate different buying funds according to the progress of the plan.

At the same time, in order to ensure the smooth progress of the plan, I require all participating students to strictly follow the trading instructions of me or my assistant to manage their positions. The success of the market value management plan depends on the discipline of each participant, so please be sure to strictly abide by the operating rules. Each student must operate within the prescribed time and price range and must not act privately. The success of teamwork can minimize the resistance in the trading process and ensure that the EVW price moves towards our predetermined target. If you have any questions, you can contact the assistant for more information about the content and details of the plan.

This week, we have ushered in the golden moment of the crypto market! I will lead all partners to fully grasp the historic profit opportunity of BTC hitting $180,000 and fully promote the token market value management plan. This is a great time node to achieve the goal of millions or even tens of millions of profits. Friends, as long as we plan carefully and strictly implement, I firmly believe that every partner can realize his or her dream of wealth!

If your time is limited, you can focus on spot trading and supplement it with contract trading. The current price of EVW still has more than 300% growth space from the target price of $24. In this way, we can not only make considerable profits through spot trading, but also seize the profits from the next contract trading. As long as we work closely together and seize every best profit opportunity at the moment, the goal of a million-dollar profit will definitely be achieved.

If you have more time to invest in the market, you can allocate a certain proportion of EVW spot, mainly focus on contract trading, and use leverage to amplify profits to quickly achieve the goal of millions or even tens of millions of profits. This is a historic opportunity in the crypto market and the best time to accelerate the realization of our profit goals.

Please be sure to prepare in advance, ensure sufficient funds, join a higher-level partner group, and strictly implement trading signals and operation plans. Whether it is spot or contract trading, we need to face it with a professional attitude and execution. 2025 is an important year for us to realize our dream of wealth through the crypto market, and now is the best time to act! Every day of this week is crucial, friends, this is our battlefield! Go all out, seize this opportunity, and turn this historic market into your own wealth legend. Use your actions to fulfill your goals and dreams!

Well, due to limited time, I will stop here today. See you tomorrow, friends.
