1. The possibility of the Fed cutting interest rates is almost zero, what strategy should the stock market adopt?
2. Super data market, are you ready?

Good morning, team! I am Milton Reese, your old friend.

This afternoon, we are about to usher in the most important super data market this week - the Federal Reserve interest rate decision! This is not only a key event that determines the market trend, but also a golden investment opportunity with a potential profit of more than 600%! The super data market has entered the countdown. Friends who have not prepared funds, please act immediately to ensure that you will not miss this moment of wealth explosion! All partners are requested to attach great importance to it, go all out, and face this wealth feast with 100% execution! This will be the key node for our sprint to the million-dollar profit target this week!

Why is the super data market so important?

In the crypto market, whenever major economic data is released, changes in market sentiment will be quickly reflected, forming a clear trading signal like "copying the answer". This is the charm of data market! Compared with traditional markets, the crypto market can more intuitively show trading sentiment, giving us clearer operating logic and stronger profit certainty.

In the past, we have successfully grasped the super data market countless times and created amazing profit records. And today's Federal Reserve interest rate decision will undoubtedly become one of our most important profit battles this year!

The opportunity is in front of us, but the market will not wait for those who hesitate! This time, will you choose to wait and see, or go all out to seize your more than 600% profit opportunity?

Friends, take action, let us use precise strategies and firm execution to go all out to sprint to the goal of a million-dollar profit!

So far, our Strategic Partner Program has achieved remarkable results:

- a. VIP1 partners achieved a total asset return rate of 207%, achieving stable asset appreciation;
- b. VIP2 partners achieved a further increase in total asset return rate to 330%, nearly doubling the growth;
- c. VIP3 partners achieved a total asset return rate of 408%, demonstrating the unique advantages of mid- and high-level partners;
- d. VIP4 partners achieved an astonishing total asset return rate of 1011%, creating a miracle of more than 10 times growth!

The superiority of the Strategic Partner Program is obvious: the higher the level, the more rights and interests you enjoy, and the more lucrative the returns you get. This is not only a strong proof of our investment capabilities, but also a profound feedback to the trust of the participants. The power of the compound interest model will help each partner achieve sustained and rapid growth of wealth, allowing you to feel the dual power of time and capital in long-term returns. Through the Strategic Partner Program, we hope to work hand in hand with every partner to write our own wealth legend together!

Compared with the uncertainty of the stock market, the opportunities in the crypto market are particularly clear. Every day, our income is growing steadily, and every step is moving steadily towards the goal of millions or even tens of millions of profits. This is not luck, but the result of our precise strategy, efficient execution and firm belief.

"Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with all your might." - As the Bible says, success always belongs to those who give their all. The same is true for investment. Only by unwaveringly executing the plan and strictly adhering to the trading strategy can you truly seize every wealth opportunity in the market.

Through the successful implementation of our recent profit plans, we are more convinced that success is not a distant dream, but the inevitable result of every step of hard work. Every transaction and every precise execution is pushing us towards a higher profit goal.

Friends, now is not the time to hesitate! Let us continue to stay focused, go all out, seize every profit opportunity, and welcome a more glorious victory together! In the days to come, I will continue to fight side by side with you. Let us, together, use wisdom and action to write our own wealth legend!

From the current market trend, we can see that compared with the traditional U.S. stock market, the crypto market is simpler and more direct. With its unique advantages, more and more companies and wealthy people are choosing to hoard Bitcoin. This trend fully reflects the importance and potential of crypto as an asset allocation.

Recently, Meta shareholder Ethan Peck submitted a proposal suggesting that the company allocate part of its $72 billion cash reserves to Bitcoin. Peck's proposal highlights the unique advantages of Bitcoin in the following aspects:

- a. Hedge against inflation: Peck is concerned that inflation is eroding the value of Meta's cash holdings, and Bitcoin's performance is seen as an effective hedge.
- b. Excellent return performance: Data shows that Bitcoin has increased by 124% in 2024 and 1,265% in the past five years, which far exceeds the yield of bonds and other traditional financial instruments.
- c. Enhance shareholder value: By converting part of its cash reserves into Bitcoin, Meta can not only resist inflation, but also bring higher returns to shareholders.

In addition, Peck mentioned that Meta indirectly exposed to Bitcoin through its second largest institutional investor BlackRock, which has allocated 2% of its Bitcoin assets to the enterprise. This shows that the interest of institutional investors in Bitcoin is gradually driving more companies to take similar actions.

This proposal is not an isolated case. Previously, large companies such as Microsoft and Amazon have also received similar suggestions, showing that the institutional push for Bitcoin adoption is increasing. Although Meta has not yet explicitly responded to these suggestions, the media speculates that Mark Zuckerberg's skepticism about the traditional financial system may coincide with the decentralized spirit of Bitcoin, providing great possibilities for potential future layouts!

As investors, we must know how to follow the trend. The so-called following the trend means following the tide of the times and planning for the future. Just as it is impossible to send soldiers to the battlefield in armor and holding spears in modern warfare, in today's world, investment tools and ways of thinking need to keep pace with the times.

For the rich, the depreciation pressure brought by inflation is far beyond our imagination. And we ordinary people also need to understand a core principle: the more deposits, the faster the depreciation; the more savings, the more serious the wealth shrinkage.

Therefore, action is the key. Let the funds flow and let your money make money for you. This is the best way to deal with inflation and increase the value of assets. Whether it is an individual or a company, the value of Bitcoin is being widely recognized. In line with the trend and reasonable layout, I personally also recommend that a large amount of property be allocated to purchase crypto for preservation. The principle is very simple: "Use a depreciating currency to buy a super asset with huge growth potential!"

Why is it the most cost-effective deal to use a depreciating currency to buy an appreciating Bitcoin?

We need to first understand the characteristics of legal tender:

Fiat tender (such as the US dollar) is essentially a credit currency, and its value depends on the stability of the economy and the government's monetary policy. However, as the money supply continues to increase, inflation becomes an inevitable result.

In the long run, inflation erodes the purchasing power of money: what you can buy with $100 now may cost $120 or more in a few years. This means that the money in a bank account is actually shrinking.

Let's take a look at the characteristics of Bitcoin:

- a. Constant total amount of Bitcoin: The supply of Bitcoin is strictly limited to 21 million pieces. This "digital scarcity" makes it more potential for value storage in the global market.
- b. Decentralization and anti-inflation: Bitcoin is not controlled by any government or institution, has anti-inflation characteristics, and has become "digital gold".
- c. Strong historical performance: Since its birth, the price of Bitcoin has been on an upward trend for a long time. It has increased by 124% in 2024 and 1,265% in five years, far exceeding the returns of traditional assets. In contrast, the purchasing power of fiat currency has declined significantly during the same period.

What interesting things will happen if we exchange our savings for Bitcoin? Here we have to talk about the complementary advantages in currency flow:

- a. Exchange depreciating fiat currency for appreciating assets: When the currency depreciates faster than its return on investment, transferring funds to appreciating assets (such as Bitcoin) is the best strategy to combat depreciation, no doubt about it!

b. Enhance asset value reserves: Bitcoin's decentralization and scarcity make it the first choice for global investors to hedge risks and preserve value!

Its essence is to exchange a currency that is about to lose value for an asset with long-term appreciation potential.

Suppose Mr. A deposits $100,000 in a bank in 2020, with an average interest rate of 0.5%, and only increases by $2,500 after five years; after deducting inflation, the actual value shrinks. Suppose Mr. B uses the same $100,000 to buy Bitcoin, and calculates the return rate of 1,265% in five years, the asset value will increase to $1,365,000 after five years!

In the modern economy, deposits can only guarantee the security of nominal currency, but cannot guarantee the stability of actual purchasing power. Investing in scarce assets with great appreciation potential (such as Bitcoin) is an effective way to avoid inflation and increase asset value. Therefore, exchanging depreciating currency for appreciating Bitcoin is absolutely a smart asset allocation behavior! MSTR does this! This is the best choice to fight inflation, and it is also the key to seize future wealth growth opportunities!

Dear friends,

We must be aware of the economic environment we are in. The crisis of economic recession throughout the year has actually arrived quietly, and the situation in the future may be even more severe.

- a. With Trump taking office, his tariff and immigration policies are expected to further exacerbate inflation.
- b. The Federal Reserve has limited monetary policy space, and there may only be two interest rate cuts throughout the year, which cannot effectively alleviate inflationary pressure.

Therefore, the shrinkage of our wealth has become an inevitable trend: deposits in bank accounts will continue to be eroded by inflation. Funds in 401k accounts are also difficult to avoid depreciation pressure. Just as Meta and other companies are worried about, the larger the scale of funds, the greater the depreciation pressure. So how should we deal with it?

We can't passively wait for the economic environment to improve, the overall environment is irreversible! What we need is to take proactive measures to protect and increase our wealth! At present, I have tailored exclusive wealth appreciation strategies for many friends. It is not just a simple trading signal, but a full range of wealth allocation! If you are worried about the shrinkage of wealth in the future, now is the best time to take action! Please contact me immediately and let me tailor an exclusive wealth growth plan for you to help you cope with inflation challenges and protect the value of your assets!

1. Super data market, a single profit opportunity of more than 600%.

Ladies and gentlemen, good afternoon! I am Michael! Today, we have finally arrived at the super data market that we have been looking forward to. This is a once-in-a-lifetime trading opportunity, a golden moment that is expected to hit 600% profit. Are you ready?

The gears of wealth have begun to turn, the magic of the market is coming, and opportunities only belong to those who act decisively and go all out! At this moment, please make sure that your funds are ready and your mentality is adjusted to the best state. At such a critical moment, any hesitation will become a regret for missing a good opportunity, and every second may determine your final profit!

Today, we are not just trading, but writing our own wealth legend! Open your trading account, keep an eye on the trading signals, and strictly follow the instructions without hesitation or retreat! This is your stage and our battlefield!

Guys, the time to sprint has come! Go all out and lock in this super market! Sprint towards the goal of millions or even tens of millions of profits!

Important reminder! Just now, the latest trading signals have been released on the Strategic Partner Trading Signal Channel! This is a once-in-a-lifetime super data market, and the high-yield opportunity is right in front of you! Please execute the transaction immediately, strictly follow the signal guidance, and do your best to grasp the golden moment of this profit explosion! Opportunities wait for no one, and the market will not stop until you are ready! Open your trading account now, execute immediately, and lock in high returns! Let us face this wealth frenzy together and sprint at full speed towards the goal of millions or even tens of millions of profits!

Imagine how you earned your first million dollars in your life? In the crypto market, we have witnessed amazing profitability. Many partners with larger capital, especially VIP3 and VIP4 members, have successfully achieved millions of dollars in profits, and are even accelerating towards the goal of tens of millions of dollars in profits. VIP1 and VIP2 partners have also made considerable profits, which undoubtedly proves that the choice we made is correct!

However, why do some people accumulate wealth quickly while others have limited gains? Some people have limited funds, but with firm execution and a full-hearted attitude, they still achieve quite good results; while some people, although capable, only participate casually, miss a lot of opportunities, resulting in returns far below expectations. The difference in all this is just a difference in attitude - full-hearted and casual participation will eventually bring completely different results! Guys, which one are you?

If you are still waiting or just participating casually, please think seriously: Why not take this opportunity as a key moment to change your destiny? This is an opportunity that can truly rewrite your life. Only by fully investing, following every trading signal, and making full use of market fluctuations can you achieve ideal returns.

The golden opportunity in the crypto market will not last forever, and the Strategic Partner Program is expected to end at the end of February! This means that every transaction and every market fluctuation we face now is an important step to achieve millions or even tens of millions of profits. Do you choose to hesitate and miss the opportunity, or seize the moment and act decisively? The real winners are always those who go all out and never back down!

Dalio said that the "AI bubble" is strikingly similar to the Internet bubble, and the market crisis is imminent!

The current market environment is very similar to that of 1998-1999. The price-to-earnings ratio of the S&P 500 index has reached 38 times, which is slightly lower than the 43 times at the peak of the Internet bubble in 1999, but it is still much higher than any other period in history, and is comparable to the level at the end of 1998. This means that the valuation of U.S. stocks has approached historical highs and risks are accumulating rapidly.

Dalio warned that the AI craze is spawning a bubble, just like the Internet bubble of that year. Back then, driven by low interest rates and Internet penetration, the valuation of technology stocks soared rapidly, and the Nasdaq 100 index doubled in 1999. However, as the Federal Reserve tightened monetary policy under the leadership of Greenspan, the bubble burst, the valuation of technology stocks fell sharply, and the Nasdaq eventually plummeted 80%, leaving countless investors with nothing.

Today, the Federal Reserve's interest rate decision keeps interest rates unchanged. The Fed's current policy stance indicates that it will not quickly start to cut interest rates in the short term, and may even suspend interest rate cuts. This will intensify the volatility of the stock market. It is especially unfavorable for the technology sector. If high valuations are combined with interest rate risks, it is likely to be the last straw that breaks the camel's back. Will the scene of the bursting of the Internet bubble in 2000 be repeated in AI?

In addition, the technological competition between major countries is making corporate profits less important. Dalio pointed out that global competition in the AI field has made it inevitable for countries to support related companies, even if this may lead to losses in profits. This non-market capital inflow may further push up the bubble, but once the market loses confidence, the consequences will be disastrous.

What is more alarming is that historical data shows that after the S&P 500 index has risen by 20% for two consecutive years, a stock market crash often occurs. This pattern has already occurred before the bursting of the Internet bubble, and now the expansion of the "AI bubble" is causing the market to repeat the same mistake. At this stage, the valuation of technology stocks has reached an extreme level, and the market's frenzy reflects that the bubble is accelerating.

The essence of a bubble is that when everyone is immersed in the illusion of crazy growth, the crisis has often quietly arrived. At present, the high valuation of the U.S. stock market, the irrational prosperity of the AI craze, interest rate risks, and national-level technology competition together constitute a market storm that is about to erupt. Judging from recent market data, although retail funds are still flowing in, institutional funds are quietly withdrawing, which is a typical signal that the market has reached its peak. Therefore, I have always emphasized that a rebound is the best time for us to sell stocks and avoid risks.

From the recent performance of the U.S. stock market, we can also see that the opportunities to make money in the stock market are decreasing. The two-year AI bull market is facing the risk of bubble bursting. The U.S. stock market is at the end of the bull market and on the eve of the bear market, the market is about to usher in a major turning point. However, most people do not know what far-reaching impact the U.S. stock market will have once it enters a bear market. Next, I will deeply analyze the multi-level impact of the U.S. stock bear market for everyone, and I hope everyone can pay enough attention to it!

a. Loss of market confidence: The bear market will seriously hit the confidence of investors. Many people begin to have pessimistic expectations about the market outlook, and the selling sentiment will spread.

b. Funds outflow from the stock market: Investors tend to withdraw funds from high-risk assets (such as stocks) and turn to low-risk assets (such as bonds or cash). This flow of funds further exacerbates the downward pressure on the stock market, forming a vicious circle.

c. Increased market volatility: During the bear market, market sentiment is extremely sensitive, and any economic data or policy news may trigger violent fluctuations.

d. Deleveraging of leveraged funds: Bear markets are often accompanied by forced liquidation of margin trading. This passive selling will amplify the market's decline and cause more serious chain reactions. Hedge funds and highly leveraged traders also suffered heavy losses in the bear market, further exacerbating the selling pressure in the market.

e. Greater pressure for future rebounds: The sharp decline in the market has weakened investor confidence and capital flows, which will make future rebounds more difficult and significantly extend the market repair period.

Currently, the U.S. stock market is in a bubble of high valuations. Although this bear market may not be as severe as the bursting of the Internet bubble in 2000, it will undoubtedly significantly reduce the chances of making money. In contrast, the crypto market is at a new outbreak point. We expect Bitcoin to usher in an epic super bull market this quarter, and BTC will have the opportunity to sprint to a high of $180,000 in the first quarter of 2025. This is a critical point for a wealth blowout. Seize it and you will have the opportunity to achieve true financial freedom.

Because of this, we must cherish every opportunity in the crypto market even more! Today's decision is not only about the present, but also paves the way for your future. Selling stocks and switching to the crypto market is the wisest choice at present! Joining the Strategic Partner Program will allow you to move forward steadily in this turbulent era, fearless of wind and rain, and safely weather possible economic storms. More importantly, this will be a great opportunity for you to achieve millions or even tens of millions of profits.

Guys, today's super data market, we have won another perfect victory! After following the data trend and completing the transaction, our VIP1 partner achieved a single profit of 200%, VIP2 and VIP3 partners reached 260%, and VIP4 partners even made a single profit of 300%! Although this data market failed to reach our expected 600% or more, the income of all partners exceeded 200%, and the compound interest model is already an extremely impressive result. Compared with the current risk of decline faced by US stocks, our profitability in the crypto market is far ahead and we have made a lot of money! All this once again verifies the accuracy and efficiency of our strategy!

However, I want to tell you that today's results are far from satisfying! Real wealth growth is not a short-term victory, but a continuous accumulation process. We must maintain high morale and face every profit opportunity that comes next! Whether it is spot trading or contract trading, every market is worth our full effort, and every opportunity may become a key springboard to achieve millions or even tens of millions of profits.

Dear friends, the rhythm of victory has begun, and opportunities ahead are waiting for us! Let us continue to fight side by side, go all out, lock in more profits, and push wealth growth to a new peak!
